

DO YOU HAVE A REQUIRED MINIMUM DISTRIBUTION (RMD)?

You can make a contribution to Lions Camp Tatiyee tax free.

Eligible IRA owners can make qualified charitable distributions up to $100,000 ($200,000 for married couples who each qualify separately) from traditional IRAs without having to pay federal income taxes on the distributions. These distributions are not tax deductible and must be made payable directly to a qualified charity.

If you want to support your favorite cause or secure a legacy that lasts beyond your lifetime, there are a number of philanthropic strategies designed to help you direct your wealth in ways that reflect your values and beliefs - while also meeting your personal goals and providing tax benefits. One strategy you may want to consider is to make a federal tax-free charitable distribution from your traditional IRA or rollover IRA (IRRA). This is a complex strategy and you should consult with your tax advisor before making a federally tax-free charitable distribution from your IRA.

Who qualifies for this strategy?

- You must be age 70½ or older at the time of the distribution.
- You may distribute any amount up to $100,000 per tax year.
- You and your spouse may make combined distributions up to $200,000, provided each of you owns at least one IRA and each of you is at least 70½ years old at the time of the distribution and can make a qualified charitable distribution up to $100,000 from your respective IRA accounts.
- You may distribute from your traditional IRA and IRRA Distributions may not be made from SEP and SIMPLE IRAs.

Where can you direct contributions?

- The distribution proceeds must be paid directly to the qualified charity.
- Charities must receive distributions for each tax year no later than December 31 of the respective tax year to be considered as a donation to the charity for the year.
- Donor advised funds and certain private foundations are not eligible charities. You must check with your tax advisor to determine whether a charity is qualified to receive an IRA charitable distribution under applicable tax law.
- You must obtain written acknowledgment of each IRA charitable distribution from each qualified charity recipient to receive the tax-free treatment.
- You cannot receive any goods or services in return for the IRA charitable distribution.

How do you apply this strategy?

Your financial advisor can help you evaluate this strategy to determine whether it makes sense in your overall estate plan. If you decide to implement this strategy and initiate a distribution from your IRA, you will need to:

- Complete the IRA/IRRA One Time Distribution Form

Can you use the qualified charitable distribution to meet required minimum distributions for the year?

Yes, you can use up to the entire $100,000 per person each year. If you have not taken your RMD before the end of the tax year and you plan to take the RMD as a qualified charitable distribution, you have until December 31 of the respective tax year to make the distribution. The amount distributed as a charitable IRA distribution is included in the owner's required minimum distribution for the year.
